July 26, 2016—Simple. Easy. Accessible. That is how to describe the new voter information pages available now from the Board of Elections in the City of New York at www.vote.nyc.ny.us. New Yorkers have been able to obtain voter registration forms, absentee ballots applications, or get up-to-the-minute voter information online, but now they can do it with the ease and simplicity of one-click access and contemporary design.

With expanded ease-of-access, voters can get all of their questions answered quickly. Want to know about voter qualifications? See the homepage. Have questions about registration in your borough? Scroll through the comprehensive list of Frequently Asked Questions. Want to know why voters' rights are essential and how they work for you? Read through the Voters' Bill of Rights today. All that information is within reach.

Please visit the updated site at your convenience and in advance of the September 13th, Primary and November 8th, Presidential Election.

The Board of Elections' new logo and website redesign has been released together with a comprehensive citywide outdoor campaign in subway and buses across all 5 Boroughs inviting New Yorkers to become poll workers on Election Day. New Yorkers from all five boroughs are welcome to serve the community—and get paid—by becoming a poll worker. Sign up is easy (available immediately at pollworker.nyc/2016 or by phone at 1-866-VOTE-NYC).

Sign up today—tell your friends, family, and coworkers about the new campaign and get more involved in New York's voting process.
